

GEORGIA GOSSIP.

SHORT TALKS WITH THE SCRIBES OF THE COUNTY PRESS.

On the 10th of October, the Georgia County Presses, Judge L. W. Felt, Editor of the Georgia County Press, and Judge J. C. Allen, Editor of the Georgia County Press, were interviewed by the Georgia County Press.

A gentleman living near Griffin who has a plantation in Calhoun county, down in southwest Georgia, tells the news that where he got eleven calves last year without guano, this year he will get only four calves with guano. He says that according to the advice he has received from various sources, the caterpillar and the drouth have done much greater damage in that section than is generally known or has been reported in the newspapers, and thinks that some measures will have to be taken for the relief of many families who are almost literally destitute of means of living.

Mr. T. L. Hittman, county school commissioner of Polk county, furnishes the following figures regarding the public schools: Whites enrolled in public schools, 1,719; colored enrolled in public schools, 560; total, 2,279. Average attendance for three months, 1,347-46-00; paid per month, 92c; total amount paid by the county, $3,728.33.

The three Stewart boys of Union picked more than 1,000 pounds per day for several consecutive days.

Sumter Republican: On last Thursday, while Mr. James Howard, of the 28th district of Sumter, was getting his cotton, a black snake up in the dirt room, which was a very small room, he commenced throwing his cotton out of doors, while other hands went to work on the house and the well. The snake was a very small one, and it was not until it was a few feet from the water that it was seen. It was a very small one, and it was not until it was a few feet from the water that it was seen. It was a very small one, and it was not until it was a few feet from the water that it was seen.

Mr. J. H. Ezell and Captain C. R. Ezell, of Putnam, killed twelve wild turkeys one evening last week, seven of which were gobblers.

The Flint river is very low.

Thursday afternoon Hugh Chapman, James Wilkins, Merick Ford, Bill Mims and St. Hawkins, of Americus, killed seventy doves and partridges in one hour and a half.

Mr. A. L. Lane has been elected county commissioner of Lowndes.

Valdosta is moving in favor of a $10,000 academy building.

George T. Black, son of Judge Harper Black, of Americus, is dead.

The Sumter Republican says that a meeting of several cotton buyers was held in the office of Colonel A. S. Cuts Friday night, for the purpose of organizing a cotton exchange. Owing to the absence of several prominent buyers only a temporary organization was effected. The meeting adjourned to meet in the council chamber on Tuesday night, when it is hoped a permanent organization will be made.

The river trade of Columbus is quite active.

Six hundred dollars reward has been offered for the arrest of the Valdosta murderers.

Berrien News: The report of the burning of Tatum Bros' turpentine still, two miles east of here on Friday, the 19th, was correct. The fire was caused by the boiling over of the still, the contents of which caught on fire and the still caught together with its entire contents was consumed in a very few minutes. The loss was estimated at about $5,000. The loss was estimated at about $5,000. The loss was estimated at about $5,000.

Calhoun W. F. Felt, conductor on the Western Union, was very badly hurt last Wednesday between the stations of Naylor and Valdosta.

The value of taxable property in Waycross, has increased since the last assessment, $72,751.00.

Judge E. W. Lewis has bought a farm on the Co-sawatee in Gordon county for $10,000. The judge owns over 2,000 acres of land.

Quitman Free Press: Jack Jones, of the Dry Lake district, has done the best farming we have heard of this year. With one mule he made eighteen bales of cotton and a plenty of corn, potatoes, cane and oats to supply him and his family.

The Miller boys have killed and sold more than a hundred cat squirrels in the Quitman market recently.

B. A. Jester, who killed H. F. Hendry near Fort Gaines about ten days ago, has had a preliminary hearing on the charge of murder. He was bound over to the superior court, and his bond fixed at $500, which he readily gave.

Columbus Sun: The fine cow which we mentioned as lying on the south commons in a critical condition, is dead. She belonged to Mr. Jas. E. Denton, and it is thought her death was caused by eating evergreen. A gentleman told us yesterday that he saw two fine cows lying dead on the commons yesterday morning, from the same cause. They belong to a widow lady who had very recently refused $10 for one of them. Parties who carelessly throw evergreen into public roads or streets should be made to pay for the damage which results therefrom.

Albany News: Ambrose West, who murdered another negro on the Early Billings place, in Worth county, about a month ago, was tried in Worth county this week, found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged on Friday, November 30th. He was brought to Albany and placed in jail yesterday evening. Clayton Fort, negro, who killed another negro near Try recently, was convicted of voluntary manslaughter, and sentenced to the penitentiary for nineteen years.

Chapman Leader: Mr. Ben L. Hardy has his corn crib burned on Tuesday night last. One of his attempts had been made to burn it—one last week when he ran off the parties by shooting at them. A quantity of provender was destroyed. He has been unable to learn the amount. It was only the week before that Mr. B. F. Hardy lost his barn with 250 bushels of corn.

Pike County News: Mr. G. F. Thompson, bailiff of the Gogginville district of Monroe county, captured Ben Lovett, a notorious negro, near High Falls, a few days ago. Ben had been out for four or five years to answer various offenses, but had eluded the vigilance of the officers, and Mr. Thompson caught him napping in a corn field and "run him in."

Sylvania Telephone: A gentleman from Bulloch walked fourteen miles last week to pay up his store account at Oglethorpe. Three checks for $100 each. He will not only receive his reward in this world but in the one to come. An honest man is the noblest work of God.

Berrien News: Monday, the 15th inst., was the eighty-first birthday of Mr. Malcolm McCranie, of southwest Berrien, and he was celebrated by the event by a family reunion and dinner in the day of the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. The party was a very successful one.

By noon ninety-six had arrived and were accommodated in the hotel. This makes an even hundred of direct descendants of this good old gentleman. Before dinner was announced, Mr. McCranie ordered his family into line, and the count showed that ninety-six were present. Mr. J. W. McKenney then delivered an address suitable to the occasion, after which the family and their invited guests, numbering about three hundred, sat down to a bountiful dinner. Mr. McCranie has been married twice, and is the father of seventeen children, six of whom are dead. The names of the living are: Mrs. Nancy McKenney, Mrs. Ma the Linn, Mrs. Elizabeth Hutchinson, Miss Elizabeth Hutchinson, Mrs. Catherine Hutchinson, Mrs. Elizabeth Hutchinson, Mrs. Carrie Parrish, C. W. McCranie, Miss Mary McCranie, H. S. McCranie and G. T. McCranie. This is the largest birthday celebration ever held in Berrien, and speaks loudly for the words of the seer in which Mr. McCranie and his family are held by their neighbors. It is a glowing tribute of affection and regard for Malcolm and Nancy McCranie, who have reached the evening of well spent lives. The stars congratulate the good old couple on the success of their family reunion, and wishes for them many years of life, health, happiness and prosperity.

Jacob Wright thus expresses himself in the Sylvania Telephone: A letter dated Sylvania, Georgia, September 18th, 1883, supposed to be written by Rev. J. C. Allen to the deputy internal revenue collector for license to sell cigars, for four days, during our campaigning at Simpson Chapel, in September, which has accidentally fallen into my hands, has my name signed to it as one of a church committee asking for the license, which signature I desire all persons concerned to understand is a wilful forgery. I never belonged to any church committee, never signed any such letter, or authorized Rev. Mr. Allen or any one else to sign it for me. I am not apprised of even the existence of such committee, nor do I believe that any such committee ever existed. I therefore desire to say to the public that the whole thing has been gotten up without my knowledge.

Savannah News: It seems that cholera among dogs is prevailing in Edinburg, Screven and other counties tributary to this city, and it is asserted that slaughtered dogs which were afflicted with the disease are marked here. If this assertion is well founded it is startling. There is no punishment so severe to inflict on any one who is guilty of the crime of slaughtering a dog as to be diseased. Such meat is sure to produce disease, and perhaps death. We are inclined to think that a mistake about the shipment of this diseased meat to Savannah. We can hardly conceive of a man so hardened to conscience as to sell such meat for dollars. It would be well, however, for the health authorities to be on the lookout. This diseased meat may find its way into our market without any intention of sending it. Hogs, swine and other animals which are diseased with cholera cannot be exercised in the inspection of meats. We do not want any interference with the sale of healthy meats, but we want rigid quarantine against cholera infected hog meat.

THE GEORGIA KUKLUX.

Banks County Asks for Justice—New Cases Reported in De Kalb and This County.

Our exchanges will persist in calling them "Banks county kuklux," when charges are made in Banks county accused of having anything to do with the late outrages. In justice to our citizens, we feel constrained to insist upon our county being relieved from this unpleasant odium. It is in our minds that the parties engaged in the business are all citizens of Jackson county.

From the Pike County News.

It is reported that a party of five or six men, named Mr. William Gardner, of Monroe county, from home upon some pretext, or met him in the road a few nights ago, and administered a fearful beating to him with sticks and a buggy whip. He was gagged while the act was being committed, and his injuries were not considered dangerous, but were very painful.

From the Baldwinville Monitor.

We learn that several parties, disguised and consequently unknown, went to the house of Berry Hitchcock, a very peaceable negro, living in town one night last week, and called him out and shot at him, or at least shot at his pistols about a dozen times. It is not known whether they wished to shoot him, or just wished to scare him a little, but Berry, they say, didn't want to see any more of them, and he fled immediately. This should be stopped, as it is not right even to scare a man to death, although he is a colored man.

After Many Years.

From the Eufaula Bulletin.

A Mr. Bautwell and Miss Jane Campbell were married near Eufaula, in this county, about thirty-five years ago. From some cause they disagreed and were finally separated. Mr. Bautwell eloped off into Dale county, and meeting another woman that won his heart, married her. Mrs. Bautwell had nowhere to go, and so she quietly remained near Eufaula. In due time Mr. N. Johnson, a colored man, married her. Recently Mrs. Bautwell No. 2 died, and Mr. Johnson, husband of Mrs. Bautwell No. 1, also died. While back Mr. B. became peculiarly embarrassed, and all his property was in danger of being swamped by his creditors. He knew not what to do, but hearing of the death of his first wife's husband, he visited her and laid his embarrassed affairs before her. He told her how, by returning to her, he could clear up his affairs, and as they had never been legally separated, they decided to live together again and thus save the property, and our informant says they are now living together and are much more contented and happy than formerly.

The Coming of Cold Weather.

From the Dublin Gazette.

The grandstand of the courthouse was deserted last Tuesday for the first time in many days, in fact, since last winter when the C. C. ventured from their winter quarters and once more looked out upon the beauty of nature. The question of some poor wretch, who was in trouble, and must pawn his last winter's coat to get money to pay the cost. The lawyers have slunk away and are now preparing nests upon the corner dry goods box in the back room of some dry goods store. The bailiffs and constables have hied away, and are no longer the terror of the average citizen who owes for last year's bacon, or has been sued on his dog-keeper guard until summer comes again, when the carnival may be renewed. The bronze monument can no longer claim its share of admiration and serve the province of silent auditor for an eloquent harangue. Winter is approaching.

Some Good Farming.

From the Griffin News.

John M. Ingram, a sturdy and handsome specimen of the intelligent young Georgia farmer, whose farm is on the line between Meriwether and Coweta counties, gave us a pleasant call yesterday, and in the course of the conversation spoke of three and a half acres on his place from which he got this fall two bales of cotton to the acre. The land was prepared with 2,000 pounds of commercial fertilizer, and he had a very good crop of cotton seed and 70 bushels of stable manure. The seed and the manure were from his own farm and the only outlay was for the acid. He also has a one horse farm, consisting of thirty-six acres, on which he raised seventeen bales of cotton and 150 bushels of corn. The farm was run on shares by two white tenants, the negro who had rented the place having left it. This is all pretty good farming, but the three and a half acres Mr. Ingram considers his brag patch and is a little proud of it, as he well may be.

The Question of Etiquette.

A young lady friend desires to know if it is imprudent to allow gentlemen callers to remain as late as twelve o'clock when making evening calls. Whether it is very much so, or when young men so far overruled the rules of propriety, we think the young lady is doing nothing amiss to show her good sense by suggesting the lateness of the hour. This failing, we presume she will never again see the young man who is entitled to respect, and there is little manifested in keeping unreasonably late hours.

Ten Minutes' Work at Cold Harbor.

From the Cartersville American.

Mr. James Thompson, a brother of Governor Thompson, of South Carolina, and who is now teaching school near Kingston, was in this city a few days since. Mr. Thompson is an exceedingly interesting talker, has a fine memory, and is well posted as to the history of the late war. He says history does not mean the fact, nevertheless it is true, that General Lee's army killed and wounded thirteen thousand yankees at Cold Harbor inside of ten minutes; that he was there and an eye witness to the struggle.

Seventy Years Apart.

From the Macon Telegraph.

On Captain Allie Shelman's train the other day was a remarkable couple, a gentleman and a lady. The gentleman was Mr. G. Smith and the lady was his sister. They were born in Sandersville, but at the age of eight years Mr. Smith went to Texas, where he lived and prospered up to a few weeks ago, when he returned to Georgia, and met his sister after seventy years of separation. They were on their way down the Southwestern railroad to visit relatives.

The Old Arm Chair.

From the Spring Place Times.

Rev. J. C. Allen, of Ramsey's store in this county, has an arm chair over one hundred years old. It was made in the state of Pennsylvania and belonged to Rev. Wm. Dunwoody of that state. The chair is still in good state of preservation.

Away from the Water.

From the American Recorder.

We are told that it is so dry in Lee county that the alligators that loaf in the ponds there have taken to land and are very often seen to come out of the water. One was caught last week and measured ten feet in length.

WADLEY, GA.—Dr. H. L. Battle, Jr., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters are very popular in this section and give entire satisfaction."

THE TRIAL OF FRISBIE.

Special to The Constitution.

CARTERSVILLE, October 29.—The adjourned trial of Bartow superior court convened this morning, Judge J. C. Fain presiding. The trial of Frisbie charged with murder will probably come up this week. As Frisbie's principal witness, who was charged with murder, was a man in jail the defense is not so confident of an acquittal as they were. The yield of cotton in this county is much larger than it was thought to be and is still coming in rapidly.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

CHATTANOOGA, October 29.—This morning, as the Cincinnati Southern train was nearing the trestle work at Flat Rock, a man, an employee of the road, whose name cannot be learned, was trying to cross on the trestle, when the train struck him, passing over his body, dragging him along the track for several yards, literally grinding him to jelly on the trestle.

He was on duty at the time of the accident.

AN ALLEGED ROMANCE.

Quite a romantic affair is now the subject of comment in our city. More than twenty years ago there was a happy marriage in this county. The couple lived together a few years, when an estrangement came between them. The wife, who was a very beautiful woman, two girls children, remaining with their mother. They are now grown. The father has been living in an other part of the state. A few weeks ago the father and mother were separated. The result of the separation was a very sad one. The father, who was a very beautiful man, died of consumption. The mother, who was a very beautiful woman, died of consumption. The result of the separation was a very sad one.

THE ART LOAN.

Continued Success—Musical Last Night—Programme for To-day and To-night.

The sixth day of the library Art Loan, like its predecessors, was a success. It was under the control of Director Jack W. Johnson, who arranged a very pleasing entertainment.

During the day the restaurant was well patronized. The superb fifty cents dinners set by the ladies between 11 and 3 o'clock and the twenty-five cents lunch during the same hours every day cannot fail to attract and gratify all who make the experiment.

At 7 o'clock Mr. Johnson entertained the directors at a dinner fit for a convention of kings. It was made the more delicious by the charming manner in which the ladies served it. As the last of the many courses was served the health of the host was heartily quaffed.

At half past eight, the musical began. It was opened with a trio for piano, violin, and violoncello. From Jordanas, was performed by Professors Purdy, Cohen, and Bischoff with the artistic excellence expected from those gentlemen.

Miss Eva Cuckler, whose delightful voice is ever heard with so much pleasure in Atlanta sang "Aria from Semiramide" in her best style. She was heartily encored and renewed the obligation of the audience by singing a sweet little ballad.

Mr. R. B. Toy sang "Dime Day" with a genuine appreciation of its merit. Professor Charles Purdy, at the piano, demonstrated the justice of his reputation by the way he rendered a selection from the Tannhauser of Wagner.

The grand violin solo of Professor Bischoff was one of the most artistic performances of the evening.

One of the grand duos from "Trovatore" was sung with fine effect by Miss Cuckler and Mr. Toy.

The juvenile orchestra composed of Charles and Bessie Abbott and Henry DeGivie played. The boys constantly improve in their music and are now at a high grade of excellence.

Mr. Joseph Scrutcher sang "The Anchor's Weighed" in excellent voice and appropriate expression. After the musical the orchestra entertained the visitors while they wandered through the gallery or sought the comforts of the restaurant.

This is Director Jack W. Johnson's day. He requests the following ladies, who have agreed to assist him, to meet him at the library at 10 o'clock this morning: Mrs. Wm. Black, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. W. D. Grant, Mrs. J. W. Farns, Mrs. James Morrow, Mrs. Dr. H. Orms, Mrs. H. I. Kimball, Mrs. Clark Howell, Sr., Mrs. Evan P. Howell, Mrs. J. C. Kimball, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Mrs. W. H. Venable, Mrs. J. G. Oglesby, Mrs. Dr. W. H. White, Mrs. E. P. Chamberlain, Mrs. W. H. Howell, Mrs. W. E. Hoyle, Mrs. J. S. Meador, Mrs. DeSaurer, Mrs. Dr. R. W. Westmoreland, Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., Mrs. John A. Perdue, Mrs. Dr. Coleman, Mrs. Willis Westmoreland, Jr., Mrs. Park Woodward, Misses Sallie Johnson, Annie Bell Walker, Lillie Walker, Laura Kimball, Maggie Lawshe, Gussie Strong, Maggie Barry, Mollie Bostick, Alva Thomas, Fannie Berry, Maggie Berry, Ella Maxwell, Ellen Howell, Elsie Peck, Mary Lyon, Mattie Hall, Ephie Erwin, Miss Lucy Black, Miss Huard, Carrie Huard, Bena Huard.

To-night there will be a series of recitations by ladies and gentlemen whose talent is well known. The following will be the programme: "Eugene Aram's Dream"—Mrs. E. M. Myers, "Treadwater Jim"—Miss Sallie Kendrick, "The Song of the Shirt"—E. M. Hammond, "Schneider's Party"—Charles T. Logan, "Jim Budsco"—Smith Clayton. After this programme there will be music by a fine orchestra and dancing.

Director Walker requests that the following ladies who have promised to assist on his day meet him at four o'clock this afternoon at the library:

Mrs. James Jackson, chairman; Mrs. J. H. Fitten, Mrs. Henry Porter, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Grant Wilkins, Mrs. H. C. Jackson, Mrs. Ed Werner, Mrs. N. P. T. Finch, Mrs. Z. D. Harrison, Mrs. J. A. Keely, Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. W. D. Dickson, Mrs. Walter Gordon, Mrs. H. W. Grady, Mrs. Thomas E. Walker, Mrs. Paul Romare, Mrs. P. H. Snook, Mrs. Walker Inman, Mrs. W. D. Grant, Mrs. W. D. Luckie, Mrs. Dr. Olmstead, Mrs. W. D. Luckie, Mrs. Ed King, Mrs. Meador, Mrs. W. H. Venable, Mrs. Julia Knight, Mrs. James Freeman, Mrs. Bain, Mrs. Charles Clarke, Mrs. W. M. Clayton, Mrs. Robert Clarke, Mrs. Jack Johnson, Mrs. R. A. Anderson, Mrs. J. J. Williams, Mrs. Harry Cottingham, Mrs. W. W. Thursday of this week the Art Loan will be in charge of Director King. The restaurant will be managed by Mrs. Darwin G. Jones, assisted by a corps of efficient ladies, and arrangements have been perfected for serving delicious lunches, dinners and suppers, at low rates. The management insures its success. One of the chief features of the entertainments of the week will be the programme for the night. It will consist in a "Shakespeare Party" in which the principal characters of Shakespeare's plays will be represented. The characters are to be represented by young misses and masters of various ages. I will contain a tableau representing the crowning of Shakespeare, in which all of the characters take part. It will be followed by a grand march and the play will be set program of dances. The entertainment is novel, is being actively pushed and cannot fail to be most interesting.

Each lady attending the Art Loan to-night will receive a handsome souvenir programme—something worth preserving.

The entertainment to-night will not begin until a quarter to 9, so that those who attend the wedding may be present.

Director Woodward will entertain the directors at dinner at half past 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The Art Loan Wednesday night promises to be one of the most interesting features of the week. Mr. Joseph Thompson, Jr., will be the director in charge that day, and his work will close by a fancy dress party, which will be attended by the young ladies and gentlemen of the city.

DISASTROUS CYCLONE.

A Family of Four Persons Killed—The Rivers Main Indiana, October 29.—A cyclone struck the west side of Columbus, Indiana, between one and two o'clock this morning, unroofing Mooney & Sons tannery and Gaff & Thomas's new four-story mill. The cyclone also knocked the corner of the railroad depot, and partly demolished a saloon. No one was injured.

It rained heavily in Cincinnati this morning and afternoon. The Ohio river is rising rapidly. Specialists to the Times-Star say there are floods in the Licking, Kanawha and Big Sandy rivers. The storm in Camden county, Kentucky, yesterday, blew down Buford's tobacco barn and warehouse, and James E. Clay's farm house, killing a family of four negroes.

New Orleans, October 29.—A special to the Times-Democrat from Waterproof, La., says a cyclone passed over Catahoula and Genesee parishes this morning, and the first place it struck was James Bowman's plantation, on the Tensas river. Three houses were blown down and four negroes were wounded. The next place was D. D. Miller's highland plantation, where one house was lifted from its foundation and carried half a mile into the woods. A negro church was turned half around. Tim Thomas, colored, had his arm broken. His wife, another woman and two children were badly hurt. The cyclone then visited D. Stone's plantation, and a barn and two houses were blown down. On H. Moss & Co.'s Helena plantation the roof of the overseer's house was carried away, and three persons were badly hurt, and seven others slightly. Mrs. Bowman's house, in Catahoula parish, was blown down. She escaped, but three children have not been found. Three houses on W. C. Young's place, three on Mr. Watson's and three on Mr. Permentier's were demolished.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

Opening of the "Georgia Cotton, Produce and Stock Exchange" Yesterday—A Large Attendance.

Yesterday there was inaugurated in Atlanta a new and important enterprise. Messrs. Paine, Rowland & Co., the managers of the Georgia Cotton, Produce and Stock Exchange, who have been busy for several days past getting into shape, formally threw open their doors at No. 9 Broad street and entertained a large number of the leading business men of the city over a bowl of artillery punch and fine Havana cigars.

The scope of the new exchange is wider than any exchange ever started in the city or state, and embraces telegraphic reports every few minutes in the day from the cotton markets of the world, spots and futures, meat and grain, from Chicago, and petroleum, and all corporate stocks, mostly railroad, the coffee, petroleum and stock reports are entirely new here, and will be of great value to specialists here.

The business opened to-day with a rush, two sales being made of great magnitude—one for 200,000 pounds of sides, the other for 100,000 pounds of sides. Besides these, several transactions involving from 100 to 400 bales of cotton, were made. The exchange seemed on a regular boom, and was crowded all day with the best business men of Atlanta.

The black boards are the handsomest in the state, and reflect credit on the taste of the managers who got them up. A number of telegrams from outside came in to-day, and there is now no doubt of the success of the exchange. The telegraph service is perfect, and there is scarcely an interval of ten minutes during the day without some report being received, making this just as desirable a point to speculate as Wall street or Chicago.

And Saturday night in Fred Marsden's greatest Comedy.

Building the walls of the new Constitution house, begin this morning.

Chief Connelly has a fine English mastiff which the owner can have by calling for and proving.

Wheat and Company, dealers in lumber and machinery, will put up a mill in Atlanta for sawing timber of unusual sizes and making veneer.

The residence of Mr. T. W. Prim, on Crew street, was burglarized Sunday night. A clock and several articles of wearing apparel were stolen.

Geo. Wooly was given apartments by Patrolman Joyner. Wooly is charged with the larceny of a quantity of clothing from a store at Bolton.

Frank Fritz, charged with assault and battery, was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Phillips. The complainant is Giles Moore, who alleges that Fritz attempted to kill him with a shotgun.

Mounted Officer Clarke yesterday found Jno. R. Franklin in possession of eighteen dollars and believing that Franklin had obtained the "smokers" unlawfully gave him a cell. Suspicion is written opposite his name.

Mr. C. K. Maddox, the secretary of Senator Brown, is thinking of establishing an ostrich farm on his orange plantation in Florida. He has abandoned his plan of raising Angora goats, in partnership with Mr. McLeavers of that state. Ostriches will pay better than goats. They have more feathers.

Hon. Emory Speer has been invited to deliver the address before the library association of Columbus at the annual exercises in January. He was requested to make such a speech as he delivered for the Young Men's Library association of Atlanta, but it is probable that his professional engagements will render it impossible for him to accept the invitation.

Mr. Orlando McLendon, of Newnan, has returned from Nashville, where he went to represent the Atlanta stockholders of the Refugio (Mexico) silver mines. The stockholders' meeting was called to determine whether or not to sell the mines at $300,000. Mr. McLendon was instructed to vote "no" for the Atlanta stockholders. This idea prevailed unanimously. The mines cost $500,000, and one third is held by Atlanta capitalists. Machinery for working the mines is now being put in position. Colonel Killebrew, who went to Mexico and examined the mines, opposes selling at any price. So the company will work the property.

The Kimball house association, through its committee on rebuilding, petitioned the Southern railway and steamship association at its recent meeting in this city to accept the Kimball house bonds at par value in payment of freight on all materials used in the construction of the new hotel, which may be transported by the lines in the association. Captain W. G. Raoul, president of the Central road and the lines under its control, agreed to this so far as concerns the freight of freight his lines would receive, and very earnestly advocated the policy of all the other lines doing the same. Governor Brown joined Captain Raoul in advocating this measure, and stated that the Western and Atlantic railroad would take the same action.

The city court was busy with criminal cases. Jordan Jones was tried for an assault but was acquitted. The prosecution attempted to establish that Jones assaulted Patrolman Boue while under arrest and thus made his escape, but the evidence against Jones was not in the opinion of the jury, sufficient to warrant a conviction. Della Holmes entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of larceny. She was accused of stealing from E. S. Colley, goods valued at twenty-five cents but a verdict of not guilty was returned. Book Bosworth was arraigned upon the charge of larceny from the house. The complainants were McKelken and E. J. Smith, who charged the defendant with stealing a broom valued at thirty-five cents from their store on Peachtree street. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and Bosworth was directed to pay $50 or go to the chain gang for six months.

Several days ago a fine cow was stolen from Recorder Anderson. Of course the police department was at once notified of the loss and a diligent search for the absent bovine was instituted. Sunday morning last Patrolman Abbott obtained information concerning the cow and inquired of it to Captain Couch, who instructed him to ferret out the matter. After a few hours' work the captain was notified that a butcher, known as T. M. Murphy, whose place of business is in the first ward, had the cow in his possession. The captain Murphy stated that he had bought the animal for ten dollars, and that he had purchased her from a negro near Hapeville. The negro at Hapeville could not be found, and Murphy was arrested on a charge of cattle stealing. Captain Couch states that Murphy must have known that the cow could never have been bought for ten dollars unless the vendor had stolen her. Murphy denies all knowledge of the theft.

THE CONVICT CASE.

Argument Continued Before Judge Hammond on the Bill for Injunction on Principal Keeper Nelms. Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock Judge Hammond in chambers resumed the hearing of the argument in the case of penitentiary companies Nos. 2 and 3, against the Marietta and North Georgia railroad. As has been stated, the penitentiary companies pray for an injunction on Principal Keeper Nelms, to prevent him from delivering to the Marietta and North Georgia railroad the convicts granted by the legislature in its act to transfer two hundred and fifty convicts to the company, for three years or until it and its branches are complete. Mr. Hoke Smith completed a close legal argument against the injunction and the Judge suspended the case until four o'clock, as court met at nine.

In the afternoon the argument for the defendants was closed by Mr. B. F. Abbott, who spoke an hour very cleverly and forcibly, and winning the case. The Judge then suspended until 9 o'clock this morning when Governor Smith will conclude the argument for the injunction. It has been a fine legal battle and the result of it involving very large interests and important questions will be awaited with interest.

HE WAS MURDERED.

It is Decided that Kuhn Did Not Kill Himself, but Was Murdered.

Yesterday Mr. M. M. Mauck, for whom Kuhn, the young man whose tragic death occurred last week in Front Royal, Virginia, worked, received a letter from Front Royal, in which it was stated that Kuhn did not suicide, but that he was murdered. The letter says that Kuhn had been in the city several days previous to his death, and that he was apparently very happy. To his friends and his intended bride, he spoke hopefully of the future and said that in Atlanta he would soon make a home for himself and wife. He had money and was not at all stingy with it but did not throw it around lavishly. The young lady to whom he was engaged was quite beautiful and was a belle. There were many who admired her and who envied Kuhn his success in winning her. He had one rival who was exceedingly disappointed, and a suspicion exists that Kuhn's death was at his instigation. There is another theory and that is that he was killed for his money by some of the servants about the hotel. The day previous to his death he was shaved by one of the barbers in Front Royal and those who are acquainted with his habits doubt his having a razor. When he retired upon the night of his murder he was quite jovial and left instructions to be aroused early the next morning. That day he had purchased his wife's suit. When the servants tried to awake him the next morning and failed they did not observe that the key was on the outside of the door until it had been broken open. Then it was for the first time ascertained that Kuhn had been locked in his room. The razor with which the deed was done was probably placed in Kuhn's hand by the murderer after he had been slain. His hands and his shirt gave evidence of a struggle and a thorough investigation of the matter is now being made. An inventory of his effects disclosed only three dollars, whereas he was known to have received nearly one hundred dollars the day before his death.

OFF TO RICHMOND.

The Governor's Horse Guard to Leave This Afternoon for the Virginia Fair.

The Governor's Horse Guard will leave this afternoon for Richmond, Virginia. They have a sleeper and a special car which they will use during the entire trip.

There was a meeting of the company at their armory last night, during which the final arrangements for the trip were made. Captain Milledge, who will command, read several "general orders" for the governor and benefit of the Guard during their absence. The company will carry their saddles, bridles and blankets with them and will be provided with horses in Richmond. They will leave their arms and will be received upon their arrival in Richmond by the military of that city and by them conducted to their armory, and two or three ladies will accompany the Guard. The following is a list of those who will represent Georgia at the Virginia state fair: Captain John Milledge, Lieutenant Vanvoris, Gordon and Hill, Sergeants Smith, Jones, Arnold, Graham and Beattie, Corporals Lester and McKelken, Ensign Gray, Privates C. B. Rocket, E. F. May, George E. Paine, J. P. Perkins, G. W. Simms, Alexander Thwait, R. W. Westmoreland, George C. Whitlock, Jack Castleberry, J. P. Trotti, E. Roach, K. C. Divine, E. C. Peters, P. H. Berry, H. Smith, John Miller, T. D. Love, Harry Hill, A. F. Coolidge, W. A. Plane and William Mays.

PETER SCHICK'S DEATH.

After a Long Illness He Dies Suddenly at His Home on West Mitchell Street.

The sudden death of Mr. Peter J. Schick, which occurred at his home, 138 West Mitchell street, about 11 o'clock Sunday night, was received with great surprise by the public yesterday morning when the sad intelligence went out. For some time past Mr. Schick has been suffering with Bright's disease of the kidneys and to that almost always fatal malady, his death is attributed. Sunday morning Mr. Schick attended church and in the evening he was again. He intended to attend church Sunday night, but after supper felt badly. By nine o'clock he was quite ill and physicians were summoned. He grew rapidly worse and shortly after their arrival the physicians announced that his condition was hopeless. His friends were quickly sent for and his heart-broken wife was told the situation.

Mr. Schick was a young man of fine business qualifications and stood high in commercial circles. He was about twenty-eight years of age and was universally esteemed. For ten years he traveled for the Messrs. Dodd, wholesale grocers on Alabama street, but soon after the establishment of the firm of Tanner, Currier & Heath he went with them. He was widely known throughout Georgia, Alabama, Florida and the Carolinas. He leaves a young wife.

His funeral will take place at nine and a half o'clock this morning at the church of Immaculate Conception.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. Herman Dart, of Brunswick, Dies Suddenly at Kirkwood of Diphtheria.

A sudden death occurred at Kirkwood Sunday night at 9 o'clock. For some days the neighborhood of Decatur and Kirkwood has been in an excited condition over an unusual amount of what the physicians pronounced "scarlatina." Saturday morning Mr. Herman Dart, a student attending Professor Neal's high school for boys at Kirkwood, was taken sick. Dr. Johnson was called to see him, but he seemed to be in no serious condition. After the doctor had taken his departure the young man grew worse, and it being impossible to secure Dr. Johnson, Dr. Ridley was called in. When Dr. Ridley reached the young man's bedside, he at once pronounced the disease diphtheria. Young Mr. Dart was, however, past all human aid, and died Sunday night at 9 o'clock.

Dr. Ridley gave a certificate that the cause of the death was diphtheria, but Dr. Johnson pronounced it a case of violent putrid sore throat.

Herman Dart was eighteen years of age and was a son of Mr. J. E. Dart, of Brunswick. The news of his sudden death was telegraphed to his father, and the relatives of the young man were overcome with grief. At four o'clock Mr. Charles Swift, the undertaker, went to Kirkwood and placed the remains in a casket. The casket was covered with a profusion of beautiful flowers, placed there by loving hands. It was brought to the city at five o'clock and remained in the undertaking establishment of Mr. Swift all night. Mr. Dart telegraphed for the remains to be sent by express, which, however, was called upon the conductor of the train which leaves at four a.m., and arranged with him to take the remains under his care. The case, therefore, left at four this morning and will reach Brunswick this evening.

The death of young Mr. Dart has cast a shadow over the entire community in which he died. He was a bright boy and had many friends. The suddenness of his death and the terrible character of the disease which ended his life have created great alarm in the neighborhood of Kirkwood. It is feared that other cases will follow.

Professor Neal has dismissed his school for the present and the boys have gone to their homes. Mr. Neal is slightly sick, but not of diphtheria. It is to be hoped that the uneasiness that now exists will not be followed by any more sickness.

Value of the Northwestern Policies After the Death of Insured.

From the Chicago Times, October 19, 1883.

"The suit of the Muskegon (Michigan) National bank against the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for the recovery of a policy of $20,000 on the life of Ervin C. Constock, formerly cashier of the bank, was begun in the United States circuit court today. THE INSURANCE COMPANY SEEMS TO PROVE THAT CONSTOCK WAS AN HABITUALLY DRUNKARD, AND THAT DEATH WAS CAUSE BY HIS OWN ACT."

QUESTIONS.—For Mr. W. W. Woods, agent of Northwestern Life for state of Georgia. "Was this man an habitual drunkard when he was insured? If so, did the company accept his premiums and insure him? If his habits of life were correct and temperate at the time he was insured, why set up a plea of intemperance after he has been insured for years, and is now dead and gone, and unable to answer the scandalous charges brought against him?"

The insuring public can avoid leaving such trouble and litigation as the above to their families and estates by securing the Equitable Life's trustworthy policies, which are paid promptly at death. The Equitable Life has paid to its policy holders in twenty-three years $7,416,624.85, and has NOT A SINGLE CLAIM ON ITS BOOKS. A record not approached by any other company in the country. For the many other valuable points to the Equitable's policies, plans, etc., apply to H. H. KNOWLES, special agent, at Whittier & Bowler's. Local agents office: 235 East Alabama street, Atlanta.

A WORTHLESS PIN

LEADS TO THE ARREST OF A WOULD-BE MURDERER.

Frank Hyland, of Youngstown, Ohio, Seeks Safety in Atlanta Under the Name of L. F. McKinney—His Arrest for Creating and Swindling Leads to His Imprisonment.

Chief of Police Connelly, of Atlanta, and Chief of Police Hugh Crowley, of Youngstown, Ohio, spent Sunday in corresponding over the Western Union wires. The cause of the exchange of messages between the two chiefs was an arrest made in this city Saturday night.

Several days ago a stranger registered at the National hotel as L. F. McKinney. He was a genteel looking man of about twenty-eight years and soon after his arrival in the city made the acquaintance of C. W. Wells, at the National hotel bar. To Mr. Wells McKinney stated that he was looking for a remuneration every day. Upon this representation, together with McKinney's appearance, Mr. Wells gave him credit at the bar. After running a bar bill for a few days McKinney showed Mr. Wells a "diamond" pin, upon which he requested a loan. Mr. Wells advanced the money asked for but soon after becoming suspicious of the pin he ascertained that its actual value was worth about thirty-five cents. This caused Mr. Wells to have McKinney arrested upon the charge of cheating and swindling. At the city prison McKinney protested his innocence and expressed a desire to compromise the matter.

He admitted that the pin was not a diamond but said that it was more valuable to him than a diamond of twice its size. As is customary McKinney was given a close search when he was looked up and in a pocket were found about a dozen extracts from Ohio papers which set forth that a man named Frank Hyland was badly wanted in Youngstown, for attempting to kill his wife and for a questionable release from jail. These clippings created a belief among the police that McKinney was no other than Frank Hyland, when he was questioned he denied being Hyland. However he said he knew Hyland very well. Chief Connelly, when advised of the case, telegraphed C. F. Truesdale, the prosecuting attorney at Youngstown, asking whether Hyland was wanted, and if so for a description. To his inquiry he received the following answer:

"A. B. CONNELLY, Chief Police: Frank C. Hyland is wanted here for attempted murder. Gentle looking, about thirty years old, and about five feet eight or ten inches high; florid face, sharp, well looking eyes, slightly bloodshot, large mustache. How long can you hold him? Cannot reach there for several days."

When this telegram was received it was shown to McKinney whereupon he admitted that he was Hyland and that he would go back to Youngstown if Chief of Police Hugh Crowley of that place would come after him. This caused Chief Connelly to open correspondence with Chief Crowley and the latter gentleman will reach here in a few days. Touching his Ohio trouble Hyland said that his wife was suing him for divorce and that she was acting by an attorney. He met the attorney upon a street in Youngstown and shot at him. His wife was with her home and he was charged with shooting at her too, but he denies that part of the allegation.

Hyland says he was en route to Florida and declares that he was quite stupid for keeping the establishment of the firm of Tanner, Currier & Heath in his pocket for so long. There are about a dozen of the extracts but no one of them tells the story complete.

The following article which Hyland cut from a Pittsburgh, Penn., paper, gives an outline of his offense:

"A telegram from Youngstown, Ohio, announces that Frank Hyland, who twice attempted to murder his wife, had been released from jail, and was in Pittsburgh. No application has been made to the police authorities here for his apprehension, and consequently no effort was made to do so. It seems that it is charged that Hyland was released through the crooked means, his brother Frank alleging that he paid $500 to James Kennedy and George Hatch, the prosecuting attorneys, for the issuance of an order discharging him, and it is further charged that the same attorneys, in return, signing an agreement not to prosecute. Hyland is believed to be on his way to Australia. He got out of jail at four o'clock yesterday morning and was driven out of the state of Ohio."

Hyland, it will be remembered, was jailed for attempting to shoot his wife and lawyer Kennedy a short time since while returning from the taking of testimony before a commission in the case of the divorce. Hyland, in the presence of the commissioner Hyland threatened to shoot his wife. Mrs. Hyland then requested Mr. Kennedy, her attorney, to accompany her to her home, and while there a few minutes later her home he approached and fired five shots at her, but, fortunately, none of the missiles took effect. Frank Hyland is a drummer for an old firm of this city, and was seen on the streets of the city today by a person who recognized him. He was said to be registered at the Seventh avenue hotel, but upon visiting that quarter this morning for the purpose of getting his version of the affair, it was learned that he had absconded his brother, who is an eastern drummer, inasmuch as he had registered, "W. J. Hyland, New York." An effort was afterward made to find Mr. Hyland in other quarters, but up to this writing he could not be found.

PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

A Case of Long Delayed Justice—Found Guilty After Five Years' Delay.

Yesterday Richard Goode, a fashionable barber not altogether unknown to the frequenters of the local establishments, was convicted of passing counterfeit money and will go up for a term of years.

The trial came up in the United States court yesterday before Judge McWay and a jury. The charge against the prisoner was passing counterfeit money and having counterfeit money in his possession with intent to defraud.

The evidence showed that in July, 1878, Richard Goode was proprietor of a tonorial establishment in LaGrange. One morning a man named Forbes was having his hair cut in the aforementioned shop. A man named Montgomery walked in and remarked:

"Rich, that five-dollar bill you gave me just now is counterfeit."

"I don't care a d—n," said Goode; "it was passed on me for good, and I am not going to lose it. But wait and I will get you your change."

He disappeared and soon returned with the change. In a few moments Kaufman Solomon, a Jew, rushed in excitedly exclaiming:

"Pee sheening, Ridge, dot monish you gif me fives counterfeit!"

Goode had simply gone across the street and passed the bill on the Jew to get the where-with to meet his liability to Montgomery. Soon after Goode said to Sam Hutton, a colored attache of the barber shop:

"Go across to 'Allaway's and buy me a dollar cravat and I will give you fifty cents."

"All right," said Sam as he took the counterfeit bill.

When it was presented Mr. Calloway detected the spurious character of the bill. It was also pronounced a counterfeit by Mr. George Speer, cashier of the LaGrange bank. All these facts came out in the evidence. District Attorney Speer prosecuted Goode and Colonel W. H. Hulsey defended him.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty, but the judge has not passed sentence. This is a case of long delayed justice, the crime having been committed in 1878.

COLONEL BRYANT RETURNS.

A Constitution Man Makes a Fruitless Effort to Draw The Colonel Out.

The form of Colonel John E. Bryant was visible on the streets yesterday. Said a Constitution man as he grasped the hand of the colonel:

"I have been looking for you for lo, these many months. When did you get from the east?"

"Yesterday,"

"I wanted to ask you something about the union league."

"Ah?" said the colonel.

"Yes," replied the scribe. "In the soft days of the early autumn I saw a statement that the union league was to be nursed back to life and that Atlanta was to witness the first application of the battery."

The colonel stroked his mustache thoughtfully but said nothing.

"What is the union league?" asked the reporter.

"The Union league," replied the colonel, "is an organization which has for its aim opposition to bourbonism and the advancement of education, mainly the latter."

"What does the organization propose to do?"

"To hold meetings in the principal southern cities and discuss the two objects and the best way to attain them."

"Tell me the whole scheme?"

The colonel looked into the frank, honest face of the reporter and remarked:

"You are a dangerous fellow to talk to—a dangerous fellow."

"I'll print it like you say it," responded the scribe.

"Exactly, but I think I had better not say it," answered the colonel. "Wait awhile later, I will tell you everything."

William W. Wilson, of the Georgia Constitution, ran off of each other and the reporter left, and the two colonels stood beside a water plug and talked long and earnestly.

A FIGHT IN JAIL.

The Banks County KKKs—The Victims of Negro Insults—"Foe Hoo."

Yesterday the prisoners had a high old time in the jail.

Since the conviction of the Banks county kuklux the negro prisoners here well high tormented the life out of those luckless individuals. They have lost no opportunity to tantalize the poor fellows who have borne the insolence with meekness and resignation.

Yesterday however matters reached a head. A negro renewed the attack and the man whom his remarks were addressed "peel him one."

The blow was the signal for a general melee. The negro threw spittoon at a white man and the white man threw a bottle at the negro and loose articles flew around lively for a few minutes.

Mr. Poole, the turnkey, heard in the kitchen and went in and commanded peace. Three negroes who were the leaders in the row were locked up in the dungeon to meditate in darkness upon the error of their ways. No one was hurt in the fracas.

Nothing new occurred in the kuklux yesterday. It is not known when they will be sentenced.

Invitation to North Georgia Conference.

The official board of the First Methodist church passed unanimously the following resolution: That we observe with great pleasure the invitation of Trinity church in this city to the North Georgia conference, to hold its first year in 1884, in this church, and that we cordially join in the request for the session to be held in that church, and open our homes in a warm welcome to all the conference.

Be sure and read Professor O. S. Fowler's announcement. Go to his lecture to-night at Concordia hall, 8 p. m. Subject: Love, Courtship and Marriage. Professor Fowler's lecture last night was attended by a large, fashionable and sensible audience. All were perfectly delighted.

THE MULLEIN PLANT.

Dr. Quillan, a celebrated physician, of Dublin, has just written, in an English medical journal, of his wonderful experimental results with the common mullein plant upon lung and bronchial affections, citing cases where he had given it to consumptives with the most astonishing result, and recommends its use by the profession. Referring to the above, we would state that "Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein," made from the formula of the medicine men of the Cherokee Nation, is composed not only of the mullein plant, but has incorporated with it the sweet gum, the most stimulating expectorant known, presenting an agreeable taste and a certain panacea for Croup, Whooping Cough, Colds and all Bronchial Affections. For sale by all leading druggists at 25c and 50c per bottle.

Rabid Reformers Refused Rectification.

The rabid reformers of morals are constantly urging the authorities to attempt to invade the well secured privileges enjoyed by the Louisiana State Lottery under special agreement by direct legislation; but they might as well attempt to swim against the current of the Niagara Falls. The public know that all its distributions are fair and its promises fulfilled. M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., will give all information relative to the matter on application before the 182d Grand Monthly Drawing, which takes place November 13, 1883.

The Planter's Wife.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
There can be no question but The Planter's Wife, which is running at Pope's theater this week, is a very excellent play, and the best which has been seen in this city in many weeks. The language is good, plot interesting, and everything about the piece of first-class character. To the general public the fact of its being so perfect a play has been in the nature of a surprise, and those who have attended the opening performances out of curiosity have come away with practically unanimous praise. It is a magnificent success. Not only is the play an exceptionally good one, but the acting of it is far above average merit. Miss Emma, the heroine, is a good actor, and nearly all the members of the company are far superior to the average of companies commonly seen here. The play is the singing of little Miss Lillie Ward. Her first appearance was the signal for hearty applause, which was generously repeated throughout the entire play. His songs were well received, and he responded to the several encores. One of the pleasing features of the evening was the singing of little Miss Lillie Ward. The play possesses many good features and a few which could be easily dispensed with. At the judgment of the audience, undoubtedly much to the dialogue. However, Mr. Ward, who is otherwise the chief figure in the play, succeeded in making it amusing and entertaining. He is supported with a uniform company.—Rochester Express.

John Ward, the Irish Comedian.

John F. Ward is quite a favorite in Rochester, where he was formerly connected with the stock companies of this city for several years. His friends were out in goodly numbers last evening to enjoy the presentation of his new comedy, "Top o' the Morning," at the opera house. His first appearance was the signal for hearty applause, which was generously repeated throughout the entire play. His songs were well received, and he responded to the several encores. One of the pleasing features of the evening was the singing of little Miss Lillie Ward. The play possesses many good features and a few which could be easily dispensed with. At the judgment of the audience, undoubtedly much to the dialogue. However, Mr. Ward, who is otherwise the chief figure in the play, succeeded in making it amusing and entertaining. No. 18. Brand vs. Kennedy. Homestead, from Rockdale. Argued, A. M. Helms, for plaintiff in error. J. N. Glenn; A. C. Perry, for defendant.

No. 19. Corley & Co. vs. Allen. Affidavit to contest validity of mortgage, from Monroe. Denmark & Adams; Berner & Turner, for plaintiffs in error. J. H. Hall & A. D. Hammond; T. B. Cabanis, for defendant.

Pending argument of Mr. Adams, court adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

The court announced that delivery of opinions will be postponed for this week; and that to-morrow the argument of cases will be resumed.

The court adopted the following rule: No motion to dismiss a writ of error will be considered unless notice of such motion, and of the grounds thereof, be given to counsel for plaintiff in error twenty-four hours before the case is called for argument. If because of the absence of counsel for plaintiff in error such notice cannot be given, the motion will be entertained and such direction in reference thereto will be given, as in the discretion of the court may seem proper.

CONSUMPTION.

Important to the Public as Well as the Medical Profession.

Hall's Journal of Health, referring to consumption, makes the following important statement: "Consumption usually begins with a slight, dry cough in the morning, then on going to bed, getting more and more frequent, with more and more phlegm, increasing debility, thinness of flesh, shortness of breath, and quickness of pulse. In fatal cases its average course is about two years; hence the importance of arresting the disease at as early a stage as possible, and the sooner rational means are employed for this purpose the greater the chance of success. The disease is owing to an irritation commencing in the throat and extending to the lungs, so that their action is interfered with, and the blood does not receive sufficient oxygen to purify it. The most marked sign of lung disease is emaciation; and the most positive indication of returning health is increase in weight."

So speaks Hall's Journal of Health, and we may add that in desperate cases, and in fact, in all cases of consumption, or troubles of the throat and lungs, immediate relief may be obtained and a permanent cure effected by the use of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, a medicine known for more than thirty-five years as an unfailing remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and all pulmonary and pectoral diseases. That the worst cases of consumption have been cured by the use of Hall's Balsam has been attested by thousands who have used it, or have been cognizant of its wonderful remedial efficacy.
